Plans Made For Alumni Gathering

Holiday Highlights Include Dances, Rally, and Musicale

TILT WITH NORWICH WEEKEND FEATURE

By Malcolm Freiberg '41

Homecoming is two short days away. At that time returning alumni will descend upon Middlebury and undergraduates will put away all books and all cares for that glorious institution known as the "long weekend." All that can be said at this point is, "Watch out!"

Friday will be comparatively tame. Registration and the musicale will serve to start things off for the graduates and undergraduates alike. The rally at the gym in the evening will be a wonderful set-to with standing room at a premium. Most common of the observations of the evening will be the remark of the undergraduate to the recent alumnus. "Well, I see you haven't got a job, EITHER." And, of course, the graduate has only to reply, "And what are you majoring in THIS year?" to effectively bottle up his junior.

Morning Tame

Saturday morning will also be comparatively tame. Open classes don't mean what they seem. At first blush, it would appear that some benevolent graduate is visiting these classes to decide whether Middlebury is really the place to give his money to. But this isn't really so. The older graduates really come in to see if dear old prof has really changed, or if he's still as dry as ever. The newer alumnae come in to see if he is still going around with her, and to meet her friends right after the class. She has so much to tell them, and there's so much she wants to know. "Is it really true that . . . ?"

By any standards, the football game with Norwich on Saturday afternoon is the highlight of this Homecoming weekend. Graduates are to be favored with reserved seats (payable in advance) in the covered sections of the grandstand.

Things will be going along fine until the first half of the game. Then, somebody is bound to find some of the old Midd spirits, and from then on it will be every man for himself. Truly, then, if ever, is the time to "watch out!"

After the game come the dances at the various houses, followed by the informal in McCullough gymnasium that evening. It is barely possible that there will be room at that time to dance more than three steps in succession, but only barely possible. But, no matter. It is good for the soul just to stand and look. And it's lots more fun.

Construction Of New Hall Initiated With Ground-Breaking Ceremony

Construction of Gifford Memorial hall for Boys began officially last week with the ground-breaking ceremony.

In the ground-breaking at ten-thirty on Thursday, ex-Gov. John E. Weeks, chairman of the college building committee, turned the first spadeful of earth. President Paul D. Moody and J. H. Heidtmann, vice-president of the Tidewater Building company, were also present at the ceremony. Practically the entire student body went directly from chapel service to the future site of Gifford to witness the ground-breaking.

Mr. Heidtmann came to Middlebury in place of Mr. Burbous, who was to represent the Tidewater company as the ceremony had been tentatively planned.

G. A. Stanton, superintendent of construction for the new dormitory, arrived Monday. He stated that the contract for the new steam shovel work has been sublet to Earle and Merry of Rutland, but that as far as he knows, no other contracts have yet been sublet.

Excavation work has already started and Mr. Stanton hopes to complete the work of excavation and the foundations before the arrival of freezing weather. He said, however, that masonry work would be impossible during the winter.

Mr. Stanton has been with the Tidewater company since it changed management about four years ago. The company itself has been established for over forty years and has done much work near New York city.

Before coming to Middlebury to assume management of the construction of Gifford hall, Mr. Stanton was in charge of a half-million dollar school construction job at Hyde Park, N. Y. Mr. Stanton is a Cornell graduate and lives in Westfield, N. J.

Gifford Memorial hall for Boys is the gift of Mrs. James M. Gifford. Her husband, Mr. James M. Gifford, was a Middlebury graduate in 1896 and a native of Monkton, Vt.

The new dormitory will have the same design as Hepburn. The same architect that planned Hepburn has been in charge of planning Gifford. He visited the occupants of Hepburn last spring, asking how certain features of the construction of the building had worked out for convenience and comfort. As a result, certain minor deviations from the Hepburn plan were made when the blueprints for Gifford were drawn.

Chief external difference in the appearance of Gifford will be the use of limestone to face the building. Native rock such as that of Painter, Old Chapel, Starr, and Forest will be used.

Gifford will be the first addition to Middlebury's campus under the proposed new building plan. Work on Munroe hall, a recitation building, will be begun next spring. When completed the proposed enlarged campus will also contain a new gynmasium and a women's Panhellenic building.

The stone to be used in the construction of the new building will be taken from a quarry, located in Weybridge, which the college recently purchased for the purpose. Although it is not definitely decided at this time, it is reported that work may commence there in order to get out a volume of stone for use when intensive construction begins next spring. This, together with the excavating, would constitute the only material progress on the building before winter sets in.

Forty-Six Men Nominated To Fill Twenty-Eight Places In Assembly

Chosen from Dormitories, Off-Campus Group, Fraternities

ELECTIONS TO BE NOVEMBER FIRST

Forty-six men have been nominated to fill twenty-eight posts on the Men's Student assembly, to represent Hepburn, Painter, and Starr halls, Weybridge house, and off-campus men. Fraternity nominations have not been completed yet.

The election of these men to office will take place in Mead chapel on November 1. While this was contrary to the date which is set in the constitution this step was felt to be necessary by the Council, under the leadership of George F. Lewin '40, because of the necessity of redistribution caused by a misinterpretation in the reading of the Constitution. Last Wednesday night, the men in Hepburn hall met in the recreation hall, and nominated twenty-two-men to fill nine places on the Assembly. These men are Richard M. Barclay '40, George F. Cook '40, James A. Cornwall '40, George R. Davis '40, Ray H. Kiely '40, William A. Onion '40, Donald T. Spore '40, John P. Stabile '40, Samuel J. Bertuzzi '41, Leonard H. Brown '41, Donald E. Chapman '41, Robert B. Crane '41, Robert A. Martin '41, Richard L. Treat '41, Dwight F. Smith '42, Anthony W. Wishinski '42, Lewis E. Haines '43,W. Tyler Long '43, Edward T. Peach '43, Arthur E. Rasmussen '43, Victor B. Schlieder '43, and Frederick S. Zollner '43.

Painter hall, to have a representation of five men on the Assembly, met and nominated eleven men, Robert C. Anderson '40, Edward J. Drew '40, Paul S. Eriksson '40, John H. Finley '40, Franklin W. Myers '40, Wayne M. Nelson '40, Donald J. Noonan '40, Willard Littlehale '41, John C. Malcolm '41, Albert W. VanBuren '41, and Robert W. Miller '43.

Seven men were nominated from Weybridge house to fill two positions on the Assembly. These men are Elbert C. Cole '40, Edward J. Langey '40, William B. Shannon '40, Harold I. Wyman '40, Wesley Clement '42, Richard C. Porter '43, and Dumont Rush '43.

Six men are to represent the off-campus men on the Assembly. At their meeting in chapel, seventeen men were nominated to fill these posts. Those nominated are: Arthur M. Jamieson '40, Curtis F. MacDowell '40, Loring W.

College Directory to Be Distributed Next Week

With several advance copies of the new College directory already distributed, it is expected that the manual will be released to the student body of the college early next week.

Containing the names, addresses, and telephone numbers of all those concerned with the college, the directory will represent several changes from last year's. Until this fall, the directory has been included in the college Handbook. However, with the division of the Middlebury handbook into two parts, the directory will now be printed and issued through the college editor, W. Storrs Lee.

Another change is that instead of giving merely the names of the women's dormitories as their college address the room numbers will now be included.

Skyline Tryouts To Be Given New Lecture Course

A novel lecture schedule for freshman Skyline tryouts includes plans for six talks, starting tomorrow. The lectures, except the one entitled "Post-Graduate Outing Work," will be given by members of the Mountain Club Governing board. Upperclassmen are welcome to attend this series, intended to explain the workings of the Middlebury organization.

The first lecture, on the subject of the Mountain club and the Skyline organization, will be presented by Robert C. Anderson, '40 the president of the group tomorrow. This class will be held in Warner hemicycle at 4:00 p. m., as will all other lectures, unless otherwise announced.

For the second lecture Helen L. West '41, will speak on commisary and will deal both with individual Middlebury problems on the subject, as well as general Mountain club reactions. The talk is scheduled for November 1.

The third class will be led by James A. Cornwall '41 and Stanley B. Saunders '40 and will deal with woodcraft. This discussion will be held on November 16.

On December 6, Anderson and Almy D. Coggeshall '40 will hold seminar on the subject of extended hikes. Jean M. Sweeny '40, Co-Chairman of the 1939 Winter carnival, will lecture on the problems of running a winter carnival on January 19, for the fifth meeting of the group.

The final class scheduled for the Skyline tryouts will be held either by Prof. Perley C. Voter or Wallace M. Cady '33, a former president of Mountain club. The subject will be "Post-Graduate Outing Work," and the talk will be given February 28.

Plans are being consummated for a supper-outing for Skyline members some time in the next two weeks. If possible, a picnic supper will be taken out in nearby woods for the Skyliners. After the meal, there will be songs around the camp-fire, as well as some serious discussion.

At the same meeting it was announced that John L. Connor '41 has been elected to Skyline. He will take the place of Albert B. Root '41, who transferred to M. I. T. this fall.

Fraternities Hold Rushing Smokers

Innovation of House Visits Is Installed To Relieve Intensity of Rush Week

Last night the first in a series of four smokers was held by the eight fraternities on campus.

Freshmen and transfers eligible for membership in the Greek letter houses have been divided alphabetically into eight groups, who will make, in all, four such visits to the eight houses on campus. By this plan one group spends an hour and a half at a house each night, visiting two houses each evening. This system extends these men the opportunity of seeing the interior of all the houses, and more important, of meeting the upperclassmen already members.

Refreshments and personalities were served at the fraternity houses, the former featuring cider, doughnuts, and manna from heaven in the form of free cigarettes; the latter featuring much and little in different cases.

The next smoker night will come two weeks from last night, and the process of visiting two houses will be repeated, with the freshmen groups rotating to new and different fraternities. November 7, November 21 and December 5 are the remaining dates on the smoker schedule at the end of which time every freshman will have visited every house.

LEGGETT, GORDON DEBATE WITH R. P. I.; LOSE FIRST MEET

Last Wednesday night the Middlebury College debating team met defeat in its initial encounter against Rennselaer Polytechnic institute. J. Halford Gordon '40 and Glenn H. Leggett '40 represented the college, taking the affirmative while the two R. P. I. men argued the negative.

Although the Middlebury team presented a strong case for their side of the question, the opposing team managed to win 2-1. The topic under consideration was: Resolved, "That the Federal government should own and operate the railroads." This timely question lent itself well to a discussion such as this was.

Leggett, who is the only Middlebury debater with rebuttal experience, will take that position in all of the important debates this year.

Kyle T. Brown '42 will join Leggett in the forthcoming Dartmouth debate which is to take place November 8. They will defend the negative of the proposition: Resolved, "That the United States uphold a policy of strict economic and military isolation toward all nations outside the Western hemisphere engaged in armed international or civil conflict." This question, which is the P. K. D. national collegiate debating club question, will be held at Wolfboro, New Hampshire.

ATTEND THE FORUM!

A good turnout of students from the college is in order for the second monthly Middlebury Community Forum meeting at the Grange hall tonight. The undergraduates are to be represented on the platform by one of their own number, who will argue the isolationist viewpoint of the subject, "Must We Fight for Peace."

The isolationist stand can be taken as generally representative of the opinions of youth at Middlebury and elsewhere; polls and opinion sampling seem to indicate that without a doubt. For this reason it would be well for the students to throw as much support as possible behind their champion.

He will be facing strong opposition from two men of more mature years. Professor Fife, of the college of economics department, has a wealth of material from which to draw a case for internationalism, and the Vermont professor who is to talk pacifism probably will be of similar calibre.

Considerable fire presumably will be directed at the student representative during the question period. He is young compared to the majority of those who will make up his audience, and it can be expected that many will be gunning for him on that score alone. It is always fun to set an upstart back on his heels.

Therefore, the undergraduates can help a lot by turning out in numbers, prepared to fire away on their own account. Not that this should be taken as urging a gang-up on the other speakers of the evening. But a good show of support for the student representative is advocated.

THOSE TENNIS COURTS

At a time when plans seem complete for making a real quadrangle out of the area bounded now by Hepburn, the gymnasium, Starr, Old Chapel, Painter and the Chemistry building, it seems logical to propose again the removal of those conspicuous tennis courts which grace the spot.

To put it mildly, the courts are one of the ugliest features about the campus. They just don't belong where they are now. Their presence there could be justified if enough use were made of them by the college tennis enthusiasts. Actually, they lie idle most of the time.

The same arguments do not apply with such force to the hockey rink which is erected there every winter. Not only is it used infinitely more by players, skaters and spectators than the tennis courts are, but also it fits into the winter scene reasonably well. In the spring and fall, however, when the trees and grass make the campus a place of real beauty, the tennis courts are a useless sore spot. Their removal should be included in the plans for the quadrangle.

RABBI WEIN TO SPEAK NOVEMBER 8, AT NEXT TOWN FORUM MEETING

Rabbi Wein of Rutland will be the featured lecturer on the third Community forum, scheduled to meet at the Town Hall on November 8, according to a committee in charge of selecting speakers, headed by Mrs. E. B. Womack and Wilder Foote.

The question under discussion will be another of subjects of contemporary importance. The Rabbi will defend the affirmative answer to the question: "Does Americanism mean free speech for everyone?" Mr. Harold O'Brien of Rutland has been asked to participate in the November 8 meeting of the Forum, but has not yet definitely accepted. He would defend the stand that there should be freedom of speech within certain limitations, as restrictions on people actively opposed to the United States government.

The fourth Community forum meeting will take place December 6. Problems of milk production and distribution is the subject for this discussion. Rev. J. E. Carothers, C. A. Ingalls, Keith Pearson and Mrs. Russell G. Sholes were appointed to the program committee for the November 8 meeting. A temporary committee for each meeting is appointed by the Forum.

Contract For Air Course Is Signed

Lectures on Flight Theory And Meteorology Given By Wissler and Swett

With the signing by both parties of the official contract, the Civil Aeronautics course is now well under way at Middlebury.

The contract calls for a maximum of twenty students, two of which are to be girls. The revised list of those taking the training is:

William Blackmore '40, James A. Cornwall '40, Robert D. Post '40, James C. Smith II '40, Eugene C. Winslow '40, Nelson Easton '41, David A. Hammond '41, Emerson G. Johnstone '41, Robert A. Martin '41, James A. Turley '41, Kenneth E. Cosgrove '42, Edward J. Gignac '42, Royce E. Hubert '42, Theodore R. Ogden '42, Philip W. Robinson '42, Howard A. Sabin '42, Charles L. Sanford '42, William F. Youngs '42, Faith S. Wohnus '40, and Lois D Dale '41. Richard M. Barclay '40 has been selected as an alternate.

Lectures on the theory of flight and on meteorology are now being given by Prof. Benjamin F. Wissler and Prof. Phelps N. Swett. Ground classes are meeting either four or five times a week and the date set for the actual flight training has not been decided upon as yet due to government regulations which have not come through.

Application blanks for the group insurance policy have been received by Prof. John G. Bowker and are to be filled out by the students as soon as possible.

PRESIDENT MOODY GIVES ADDRESS AT ALUMNI LUNCHEON

The alumni and alumnae of the New Hampshire district held a luncheon at the Ellis hotel in Keene, New Hampshire on October 19, with Arthur T. Brush '30, of the Manchester Union-Leader, president of the District, presiding.

President and Mrs. Paul D. Moody and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar J. Wiley were the guests from the college. President Moody spoke on present developments at Middlebury and Mr. Wiley illustrated his talk with colored motion pictures of college scenes and activities. Arrangements for the luncheon were in charge of Miss Isabelle U. Esten, '14, Dean of Women at Keene Teachers college. Dr. Charles J. Lyon, '18, head of the biology department at Dartmouth college, was chairman of the nominating committee on whose recommendation Mr. Brush and Miss Esten were re-elected as president and secretary and Phelps N. Swett, '34, assistant manager of the Sears Roebuck store in Concord, was elected vice president for the coming year. Forty one members attended the meeting.

The Capitol district alumni and alumnae dined on the evening of October 19, at the Hale house on the Union college campus in Schenectady with Miss Edith H. Tallmadge, '21, president of the club, presiding. Local arrangements were in charge of Philip E. Brewer, '31, of Schenectady. In addition to the program presented at the Keene luncheon, Miss Rose Martin of the Middlebury faculty addressed the forty who attended on the subject "Languages Are Fun."

To Raise Young Memorial Fund By New System

Feather boutonnieres will be sold for the benefit of the Marion L. Young Memorial Scholarship fund at the Norwich game and in the dormitories. A committee of students, working under Mrs. Lynford A. Lardner and Mrs. John T. Andrews of the Alumnae association, will solicit contributions.

A memorial fund of three thousand dollars is aimed at, from which a scholarship of one hundred dollars will be awarded annually to a sophomore woman. The scholarship will be presented for the first time in June to a member of the class of 1943, on the basis of all-round ability, with special emphasis placed on athletic interest and scholarship. The fund at present contains only seven hundred dollars, despite the contributions of alumnae and students. The money was raised by bridge parties, silver collections, and teas.

This year, the Alumnae association is making the Young Scholarship fund its project, and in connection with this, has instituted the sale of boutonnieres. Members of the class of 1941 who lived in Hillcrest are taking charge of the sale, and will make individual calls in all the women's dormitories. Alumni and alumnae will be approached after chapel Saturday and at the Norwich game.

Rabbi Charles E. Shulman Talks On Racial Problems At Vespers

Rabbi Charles E. Shulman of Glencoe, Illinois spoke at last Sunday's Vespers, opening his sermon with a quotation from William Blake's "Songs of Innocence". He used this to introduce the idea that civilization should be interpreted in terms of the individual rather than the mass.

Since the tools of invention have caught up with man, the world is so much smaller that isolation is now impossible. Distance no longer constitutes isolation. Using his personal experiences, Rabbi Shulman showed how closely knit were the lives of people living in small towns. He explained that the universities and colleges were the places to gain similar close knowledge of many people—a thing impossible in large cities.

European Hatreds

In this new world, he explained further, it is possible to have all the happenings in the news close to us and understandable. Using the examples of the hatreds in Europe at the present time, he said that they were mostly due to "hereditary environments." He then told the story of the German chancellor who was constantly asking the French premier about the war-guilt clause in the Versailles treaty and was concerned with what posterity would say about this. The French premier knew one thing that they wouldn't say and that was that Belgium had invaded Germany.

Danger of Prejudice

Taking one thing for an example, he said that prejudice was one of the dangers of today. This was partly due to ignorance of other human beings, and to the Freudian ability to put one's own vices off on someone else. In the latter case the Germans who blamed the Jews for every calamity were a good case in point.

Other prejudices were acquired as the Austrians had acquired the legend about the Germans. They said that God put honesty, intelligence and Nazism in the hearts of the Germans, but only two could exist at once. If honest and a Nazi, a German couldn't be intelligent; if intelligent and a Nazi, he couldn't be honest and no intelligent and honest German could be a Nazi.

Next Sunday the Reverend Charles R. Brown, Dean Emeritus of Yale Divinity school, will be the speaker. He spoke last April at Vespers service, using the theme of making one's self over.

FIRST FOOTBALL COFFEE FOLLOWS VARSITY BATTLE

After the varsity football game with Colby Saturday, the first of a series of football coffees was held in Forest Recreation room at five o'clock.

About 150 people attended the opening coffee. After everyone was served, Edward A. Romeo '39, standing on a chair by the piano, started off a 'sing' with a do, me, sol, do on 'ahs'. After the throats were cleared of any adhering doughnut crumbs, the singing went on in earnest; Romeo directed and Betsey W. Barber '40 accompanied on the piano. All together six songs were sung: There's a Long Long Trail, Gamaliel Painter's Cane, I've Been Working on the Railroad, You'll Never Get to Heaven, The College on the Hill and Swing Low, Sweet Chariot.

The coffee was sponsored and arranged by the Social committee. Heading the committee for preparing and serving food was D. Jane Acker '40, Elizabeth A. Bucher '40, Elizabeth C. Cook '40, Frances E. Cornwall '40, Barbara N. Peek '40, Barbara J. Plumer '40, and Lucia D. Powell '41 poured coffee. Serving cream and sugar were Mildred E. Becker '41, Carol E. Hubbard '41, and Jean D. Butterfield '42. Doughnuts were served by Louise F. Henofer '42, Susan Hulings '42, and Virginia S. Poole '42.

Women in Non-Decision Debate at St. Lawrence

Last Thursday night the women's debating team held its first contest of the fall season with St. Lawrence university in a non-decision debate.

The Middlebury team, Carol E. Hubbard '41, Helen L. West '41, and Elizabeth von Thurn '43, took the negative side of the subject: Resolved, "That the Federal Government should own and operate the railroads."

Next Friday Miss Hubbard and Alice J. Austin '42 will attend a debate clinic with Bates at the Lancaster, New Hampshire High school. Miss Hubbard and Miss Austin will each give ten-minute constructive speches and five-minute rebuttals on the negative side of the same question.

The next regular debate is scheduled with Salem Teacher's college. It will be held Friday, November 3 at 2:30 p. m. in Forest Recreation room. The question on which the Middlebury team will uphold the affirmative, concerns the cash and carry policy as a basis for neutrality.

Saxonian Features Opinions On Peace

Verses, Article and Short Story to Develop Theme Illustrated on the Cover

First issue of this year's Saxonian is expected to be ready for distribution the early part of next week to all undergraduates and subscribers.

Organized in the usual way, the first issue, acording to the Editorial board, will feature no particluar type of material, but will have both "opinion" articles and creative writing. Because most of the contributions were concerned with "Peace," the issue reflects this interest. "They That Take The Sword," by Almy D. Coggeshall '40 offers an analysis of America's attitudes today. "Black Out," a short story by Janet E. Sutliffe '41, shows the concern with "Peace" in an imaginative way. A long poem, "October 1939" by Ruth L. Carpenter '41, sets the theme for most of the poetry.

Cover Photograph

Almy D. Coggeshall '40 took the photograph which will be used on the cover, and arranged the picture to reflect the subject-matter of the magazine. John F. Hogan '41 made the full-page cartoon on football, and drew the other illustrations except one for "October 1939" which was done by Viola M. Guthrie '42.

Peter J. Stanlis '42 becomes a member of the contributing staff of Saxonian with the publication in this issue of the poems "Autumn Day" and "Cinquain Sequence." Other poems will be by James L. McPherson '42, George W. Sullivan Jr. '43, also a new contributor, and by John W. Holt and William Ferguson 3rd '41.

Albert W. VanBuren '41 will be published in Saxonian for the second time with his short-story, "Summer Flower." Barbara N. Peek '40 will have a detective story, "Dear Bill," which is written in the form of a series of letters.

Robert L. Zurbach '40 will again have a music column reviewing recent recordings, classical and swing while Curtis F. McDowell '40 reviews the book, "Not Peace But The Sword," by Vincent Sheean.

WOMEN'S SORORITY RUSHING WILL OPEN WITH TEA FOR TRANSFERS WEDNESDAY

Next Wednesday afternoon a Panhellenic tea, the first event on the women's rushing program, will be given in Forest Recreation room for the transfers interested in joining a sorority.

Five representatives from each of the seven sororities will be at the tea to talk to the freshmen and the rules and regulations governing rushing will be explained. The two representatives of each sorority to the Panhellenic council, the president of the group, and two elected members will attend the tea.

Before the affair on Wednesday, leaflets will be distributed to all the freshmen and transfer women. These will contain information on each sorority, including lists of the active members and pledges and the financial obligations of the college year.

Thursday and Friday, November 2 and 3, all sororities will hold open house. All freshmen are invited to visit the rooms of the sororities and ask any questions about them they may wish. No entertainment or refreshments are permitted at this gathering.

Invitations to the first parties will be delivered through Panhellenic Sunday night. The first parties will be held Monday, November 6 through Thursday, November 9.

New Rushing Plan

Thursday night a forum will be held. Here the rushees will sign up for the second parties they are interested in attending. This is a new plan. Formerly during rushing the rushees were given no chance to tell what sororities they were interested in and the sororities had no way of telling whether the girls they were rushing were at all interested in joining their sorority. This forum has been planned with the hope of clearing up this situation.

By Friday, November 17, the sororities must have given their preferential lists to Prof. Stephen A. Freeman. Freshman will list their preferences Friday afternoon.

Saturday bids will be delivered and pledging will take place Sunday, November 19.

Each sorority is allowed a quota of eight girls this year. Last year because of the small freshman class each sorority could only pledge seven. The increase in size of this year's freshman class has made it possible to raise the quota.

Rushing Parties

The schedule for rushing parties is prearranged from year to year. A sorority whose party has been the first one the previous year will have their party scheduled as being the second one the next rushing period. In this way it is felt by the Panhellenic organiation that there will be no favoritism shown.

Free Ticket To Be Given For Poster

Winning Design in Carnival Theme Contest Will Get Entry to All Save Dance

Howard A. Schlieder '42 and Doris J. Lathrop '41, co-chairmen of the publicity committee of Winter carnival, announce a poster contest with its subject to be the 1940 Winter carnival. This contest will be open to the entire student body. The winner of the contest will be awarded a blanket ticket to all of the Carnival events, exclusive of the Carnival Ball.

The poster may feature any appropriate design, and must contain the following information: Middlebury College Winter carnival, Middlebury, Vermont, February 15-18. All entries must be handed in to the co-chairmen by Monday, October 3.

The contest will be judged by the Winter Carnival board, composed of Carnival co-chairmen Dan B. Armstrong '41, and Ruth H. Packard '41, Monutain Club President Robert C. Anderson '40, Treasurer John C. Malcolm '41, 1939 Carnival co-chairman Jean M. Sweeny '40, and Recorder Lois M. Gillette '40. The decision of the board will be final.

Last year, a similar contest was sponsored by the publicity committee led by George F. Lewin '40 and Doris M. Keffer, '40. Due to the medcocrity of the entries, however, a professional poster was used. In case this year's committee meets a like difficulty, the chairmen will be forced to buy a company design.

The chairman of the Men's Sports committee has not yet been selected. All other chairmen have been chosen, and are now picking their committees.

Miss Packard is at present contacting women's colleges, to see what schools will be interested in participating in the women's ski meet. Last year, seven colleges sent representatives who took part in two meets, a downhill race and a slalom contest.

French Club Gathering Features Informal Party

The second meeting of the French club this year was held last night in the Chateau under the leadership of Eloise Jenkins '40, the president of the club. This affair, open to all members, was planned as a French party with a short play, games and songs in which all the members took part.

The party began with a short French play being presented by the senior members, in which they acted the parts of freshmen in a first year French class. This was followed by a series of charades planned and acted by the members. More games and a period of singing followed, along with refreshments of cider and doughnuts. Mary J. kiely '41 was in charge.

1940 KALEID PLANS INCLUDE PICTURES OF DORMITORY LIFE

The 1940 Kaleidoscope is well under way with the individual pictures of the Junior class being taken and their activity sheets filled out. Lester W. Ingalls, '41 Editor-in-Chief, has announced a number of innovations, chief among which will be a departure from the conventional blue color scheme to one of brick red and ivory.

On the opening pages of the Kaleidescope will be a wood-cut of the architects' drawing of Gifford hall. Informal group pictures of each department of the faculty will take the place of the former individual ones.

This year for the first time a section will be devoted to the dormitories of the college. Besides separate pictures there will be included candid shots of the life within, and brief histories of the buildings.

One of the main themes to be carried out in this year's Kaleidescope will be a contrast between Painter hall, the oldest college building in the state, and the Gifford Memorial hall for boys now in the process of construction. This contrast will be so designed as to bring out the idea of Middlebury's growth over a period of one hundred and thirty nine years.

The sports section of the Kaleidoscope will also present a few changes this year. Two new sports, fencing and dinghy racing will each be given a full page spread, while the setup for the other pages will be altered slightly.

MRS. RICHARD HUBBARD, MIDDLEBURY GRADUATE, WILL PLAY TITLE ROLE IN LOCAL VERSION OF "MOVIE QUEEN"

By Charles H. Kitchell '42

With the announcement this afternoon of the awarding of the coveted title role in "Movie Queen", the forthcoming town production, to Mrs. Richard Hubbard, the former Ruth Colesworthy '39, Middlebury became a movie center.

Starting with the ovation which the returning star received as she stepped off the train, and continuing with the elaborate parade in her honor, cameramen shot the entire staff from start to finish. To many who may be unfamiliar with the idea behind all this excitement, here is the whole set-up in a few words.

Stage-Screen Combination

"Movie Queen" combines a stage and a screen show, and in the screen portion will show real Middlebury scenes and real Middlebury people. The plot is cleverly done and has a very simple way of combining the two. The stage part concerns the adventures of Mary Brown of Middlebury who goes to Hollywood where she is mistaken for a famous movie star. The efforts of the producers to make her one are developed. They think she will be a flop, but she is a huge success; and after her triumph is assured, she wants to visit her home town.

Screen Play Begins

At this point the stage play stops and the screen drama begins. The motion pictures which were taken this afternoon are the first in this part of the production. It is possible that pictures of Saturday's football game may be incorporated in this part. In the parade which took place this afternoon sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, local organizations, and groups, bands, floats from the business establishments combined to give a rousing welcome such as might turn out to welcome a Middlebury girl who had established herself in the flickers. The parade proceeded to the mounument by the Town hall where Mary Brown was greeted on behalf of the town by the selectmen and other local dignitaries.

Other shots of Middlebury will be obtained as the queen attends church on Sunday and as she visits the various shops about town. The climax of the drama comes when the "real" movie queen, Marlena Slarbo, for whom Mary Brown was mistaken, seeks to kidnap Mary in order to remove her from the scene and regain her own popularity. The rival movie star will also be a local girl, and the parts of the thirteen gangsters and public enemies who assist her in the kidnapping scene will be taken by local business and professional men.

Candid Shots

The scenes will include not only these actors but also unsuspecting citizens who will not know that their pictures are being taken. All this will be seen on the screen and stage at the new high-school auditorium on November 3.

TIME OUT
by DAVY

VENERUNT VIDERUNT VICIMUS

Biggest stir on campus this week is of course the annual Roman holiday that is better known to those sentimentalists who still survive as Alumni Homecoming. "Thousands upon thousands of returning alumni" (if we are to believe a recent chapel notice) will return to quench tender thirsts for a glimpse of dear old Alma Mater. And thousands upon thousands will be running around telling the frosh of the days when they played on the Midd team that beat East Overshoe Teachers 72-0. And the Frosh, God bless 'em, will have to listen!

Biggest anticipation of the week is that Middlebury will beat Norwich in the first State Series game. No idle hope is this, but an assumption that looks like a fact in the making. We even go so far as to say that the score will be 9-6 at the end.

For Colby came up against a different team that met Tufts and Union. Something that had been lying latent in the Panthers came into the spotlight last Saturday. They looked like a ball club. Colby may have come out on top of the score, but it was only by one point, and the real victory rested in the hands of the Panther football team.

The coolness of Johnson as he faded back with a host of Colby men swarming about him and picked Mahoney out in the end zone was exactly a parallel of the Williams game. And the way in which the team handled itself was exactly parallel to the same level headed way they were at Williams. This is what we have looked for, and this is what the Panthers showed last Saturday.

Norwich will find no setup this Saturday. One half of the Midd schedule is over, and the Panthers are not buying anymore red ink with which to write down scores. Alumni supporters won't have to depend too much on the night before to see a Blue and White haze over Porter field this weekend.

PAGING COACH NASH

No doubt that one of the happiest men on campus is frosh coach Johnny Nash. His boys more than avenged the varsity defeat by walloping the Union frosh 26-6. The frosh eleven showed plenty of football ability to beat a team that had two games experience under their belts. Main item of interest to us is that it gives an insight to the material for next year's varsity—and right now it looks plenty good.

Stand up and cheer for Dick Porter who was elected freshman football captain yesterday. He accounted for two of the yearling touchdowns in the Union game.

Another report on the frosh eleven is that the open date of November 4 has been filled. The New York Military Academy team will play the freshmen at Cornwall that day. We understand that Milt Lins was largely responsible for this game being scheduled.

FEUDING PARTY

If, when you walk into the gym someday and two pairs of handsgrab and two voices say simultaneously "which is the best trained team in college!" answer quickly "the womans' hockey team!" For John "Pride of the West" Holt, and George "Maginot line" Farrel are at odds about the varsity and frosh football teams. Holt so far as frosh trainer has first blood since the yearlings have scored more points in one game than the varsity has in four. Farrel is threatening after the Norwich game than to get out the adhesive tape and "wrap Holt so tight he can't play that Beer Barrel Polka" . . . . .Thanks George!

EUREKA (WRONG GENDER)

It is the wrong gender, but it all means that by glacier drift, homing pigeon and the U. S. mail we have heard that Coach Schlatter is coming back. Information comes by way of Dartmouth's coach, and a fellow who was over here last week.

So with the snow flurry of yesterday to help along the reports that this will be an early winter with plenty of snow, it looks as though the ski team will lack nothing in the way of material for a successful season—skiers, snow and coach. What more.. . . . you bet Hot Buttered Rum!

NOTES AND COMMENT

Spirit was best yet at the Colby game. But we would ask the frosh to sing college songs, and keep the popular music for the gym dance after the game.

Cadets And Panthers Set For Homecoming; Middlebury Drops 13-12 Decision To Colby

Extra Point Is Margin Of Victory For Colby Mules

By Robert W. M. Halligan '42

Last Saturday afternoon the Middlebury Panthers went down to defeat at the hands of the Colby Mules, 13 to 12, in one of the most thrilling and hard fought games of their season.

In the first quarter, after failing to take advantage of a recovered fumble, the Colby team took the ball from their own 35 yard line. From this point Daggett, their swift backfield ace, took the ball on a reverse and sprinted around Middlebury's right end for a touchdown. Maguire's successful place kick was the point which later proved to be the deciding factor of the game.

After Johnny Zydik punted out of bounds on Colby's 13 yard line, Hatch of the Mules fumbled the ball and Tony Wishinski recovered for Midd on the three yard line. On the home team's second play, Jack Johnson plunged over right tackle for a touchdown. Jaques dropped back to kick the extra point but his try was low and the score remained Colby 7 Middlebury 6

The break of the game came early in the second quarter. After Hatch had made a poor kick which gave Midd the ball on the Colby 27 yard line, the Panthers fought their way down to the nine yard line. With Johnny Mahoney holding the ball Jaques attempted to kick a field goal that was wide

Half Ends 7-6

During the remainder of the period Colby took to the air and Midd continued to buck the line, but no score was made and the half ended Colby 7 Middlebury 6.

At the start of the second half, sandwiched between a vicious punting duel between Johnny Zydik and Hatch, a bitter ground attack was waged by both teams. These same two men hammered and drove up and down the field with Hatch making some brilliant runs for long gains, and Zydik plunging, bucking and driving through the tough Colby line.

Colby Scores Again

Early in the fourth period a Middlebury pass touched one of the linemen. The penalty for this gave Colby the ball on Midd's 17 yard stripe. After two unsuccessful running plays and a holding penalty which put them back on the 24 yard line, Hatch faded back and flipped a touchdown pass to Daggett.

Mahoney Goes Over

The score was 13 to 6 in favor of Colby, but not for long. Taking the kickoff on their own 25, Midd started a sustained march up the field which was marked by Zydik's 23 yard dash, until they reached the Colby 28 yard line. As in the Williams game, Jack Johnson faded back and threw a long pass into the left hand corner of the field,where Johnny Mahoney, although surrounded by Colby men, snatched out of the air and raced over the goal line, jumping the score to Colby 13 Middlebury 12.

Coach Beck at this point substituted Jack Ross, sophomore place kicker, to perform his specialty. Ross got away a nice one, but it went wide.

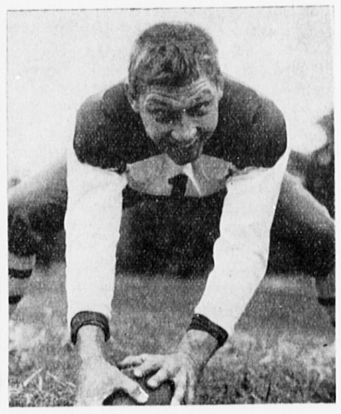
CHI PSI TOPS D.U. 7-0 TAKING TOUCH FOOTBALL TITLE

Scoring on a pass from Talbott to Bursaw early in the third period, Chi Psi defeated Delta Upsilon in the playoff for the intramural touch football title.

Yesterday's game was the second one of the playoffs. D. U. and Chi Psi had tied at six all the other day after three overtime periods.

The tennis tournament has reached a stall, and the intramural office requests that matches be played off as soon as possible.

Team volleyball is the next sport scheduled for interfraternity competition. Practice games are going on, and the first regular game is set for next week.



Benjamin Beck and John Stabile Coach and Captain of the Middlebury team that meets the Norwich Cadets for the first state game this weekend.

Freshman Eleven Downs Union Frosh 26-6 in Opening Encounter

Yearlings Display Running And Passing Power In First Win

By Casey S. Jones '42

Swamping the Dutchmen from Schenectady, the Frosh Panthers trounced the Union first year men last Saturday afternoon to the tune of 26-6 in the first game of the freshman football season.

The first Blue and White touchdown came early in the first quarter, when Adsit blocked a Union punt on the 20, the ball being downed by Midd on the Union 9 yard stripe. Then after two short gain plunges, Porter crashed over center for the first score. Adsit's kick for the point after touchdown failed to bring further score.

The second touchdown came after a sustained drive from Union's 40, with runs by Porter, Colonna, Wittlin, and Booth, Porter making the final plunge off tackle. On a short pass, Porter to Bernard, the Panther Frosh jacked the score to 13-0.

Before the half, Brook punted into the end zone, giving Union the ball on the 20 yard line. Union, after losing 6 yards, attempted a kick which was blocked and downed by Midd on the 18 yard line. Two runs carried the ball to the 5, and on a reverse from Porter to Colonna, the Frosh broke through again, making, as Porter's kick was good, the score 20-0.

On the 20, after two incompleted passes, Union ran the ball for a six yard gain, as the quarter ended. In the last period, Colonna received Union's punt on the 49 yard line, Adsit picked up 8 yards, and on a fumble, Union gained possession of the ball. Union on a run went to Midd's 32, then to the 13, and on a pass to Wykoff to Midd's 2 yard line for a first down. In a plunge into the line, the Dutchmen found a stone wall and were stopped with no gains. Two passes followed, both incomplete. On the last down, however, Quigley ran around end and over for Union's only score of the day.

K. U. A. NEXT GAME, SET FOR SATURDAY

Middlebury's freshman football team will play Kimbal Union academy this Friday at Porter Field.

Out of four starts KUA has beaten Clark, Dartmouth frosh, and Stockbridge, losing only to Governor Dummer academy by a score of 2-0.

Co. captains Dick Tyle and Alan Robertson have played for KUA for three years and are real offensive threats. Backing them up will be Johnson and Bagg. The KUA Warner system of offense revolves around the fullabck and includes spinners, reverse plays, and a double wing back formation.

W. A. A.

In an evenly matched game Monday afternoon the seniors gained a victory from the juniors by the score of 1-0 and thus clinched the hockey championship. They have won three games and tied one. After a scrimmage at the junior goal Barbara Plumer, senior right half, drove in the wining tally

The Senior-Freshman White game resulted in a 0-0 tie. Both teams were evenly matched and had good defensive players. Marjorie Gooch, Elizabeth Garrett and Priscilla Bateson showed up well for the seniors while Frances Majoros and Margaret Ferry were outstanding on the freshman team. The junior team defeated the sophomores 3-1. Edith Grimm scored all three goals for the juniors. This game was unusual in that a penalty bully, the first one in over two years, was awarded the juniors. Ruth Packard, Helen West and Barbara Mower played good games for the juniors while Mary Brehaut and Beatrice Simpler were strong players on the sophomore team.

The seniors emerged victorious over the sophomores by the score of 2-1 despite the fact that they had only ten players. Lois Whittier combined fullback and goal positions and broke up many scoring drives. The freshman Blue team was defeated by the White 2-1.

Domina Lost To Norwich Due to Eligibility Rulings

By Dwight F. Smith '42

Opening the state series Saturday afternoon, the Horsemen of Norwich will meet the Middlebury Panthers for the highlight of Homecoming weekend. With a record of 4 wins and only 1 defeat Norwich is sending one of the best teams the cadets have had in many years, and the Panthers will be trying to break into the win column in this first state game.

Losing to Colby by a 13-12 score last weekend, the Panthers showed themselves to be a very improved team. With the new defense, designed to stop Colby's fleet backfield man Daggett clicking well and the return of Bertuzzi and Jaques, Middlebury nearly took the highly rated Colby aggregation.

With a greatly improved offense and steady defensive play Middlebury appears to be getting into mid-season form. Zydik has proven himself a capable backfield man, handling much of the ball carrying in the Colby game. The passing atack of Johnson to Mahoney seemed to be working well last Saturday and will probably be called into action against the Horsemen. Jaques, whose knee injury forced him out of the Colby game, will return to the lineup next Saturday and will be relied on to carry out the kicking assignments. On the whole, the backfield is in excellent condition.

At the center of the recently revamped Panther line will be Captain Jack Stabile. He will probably be flanked at the guard positions by Vartuli and Jaques. Profy will hold down one of the tackles, with either Kedmenec, Mayo or Myers filling the other post. The end positions will find either Berry or Crawford at the left post and Adam Tupka, who handled several pass interceptions in the Colby contest, at the extreme right.

The Maroon invades Middlebury with a team that has been considerably weakened by injuries and ineligibilities. McCloskey, the 220 pound bulwark at the center of the line was injured in last week's defeat at the hands of Worcester Tech will not be able to start Saturday. Walter Domina, one of the high scorers in the east is affected by the eligibility rule which fordbids participation in any state game before one season football residence has been completed.

Just what effect the absences will have on the Norwich football fortunes next weekend is not known. In any case the initial game of the state series will not be a prosaic battle as either team will find a tough game on their hands.

Varsity Harriers Drop Opening Meet To Formidable Union Team 17 to 38

Williams, Vermont Aggies Next on Varsity, Cubs Schedules

Capturing four of the first five places, a powerful Union squad easily overwhelmed the Midd cross country team by the score of 17-38 in a meet held between the two colleges last Saturday on the Middlebury course. All the Union men succeeded in completing the course in the first eight places.

Co-Captain Santoros, of Union, took an early lead, and captured first place honors with a time of 23:44 to his credit. Tied for second place were Johnson and Co-Captain Mellewicz, both of Union, with the time of 25:06. In fourth place finished Post, of Middlebury, in the time of 25:34. Fifth place was won by another Union man, Mains. Sixth place was taken by Collins, and his Union teammates, Conley and Pearson, tied for the seventh position. Ninth place was taken by Schlieder, with Butler and Captain Mercure of the Midd team tying for tenth place. After these men finished Hasbrouck, Stanlis, Flanders, Swope, Dave Smith, and Gus Root— all of Middlebury.

On Oct. 28, the Varsity cross-country runners will meet the Williams men on the Middlebury course. Williams, undoubtedly, will present a strong aggregation of runners. The Purple have already taken a meet from R. P. I. to the score of 27-28.

Fastest man on the William's squad is Ted Wills, who runs the mile in 4:28. Capt. Hadley Griffin, and Tom Lena are both very dependable runners. Johnny Gilman, Brewster Chapman, Bill Van Loon, and Howie Conway round out the squad from Williamstown.

On Oct. 27, the Frosh harriers will face a strong Vt. State Agricultural squad at Randolph Center, Vt. Last year the Aggies succeeded in defeating the Blue and White yearlings to the score of 23-32, and indications are that the Farmers will show up with another powerful team.

Coach Brown will bring ten men along on the trip. Although the runners have not definitely been announced, it is probable that Scott, Backup, Roberts, Lutz, Wood, Jehoda, and Smith will probably be among those chosen to run

Sherwood Eddy Gives Address On European Crisis Wednesday

Sherwood Eddy, noted lecturer and authority on world affairs, spoke Wednesday night in Mead chapel to a large audience.

As an introduction to his talk, Mr. Eddy told briefly of the tour he had conducted with noted educators and professors during the past summer. He pointed out the itinerary of the group on a large map which included London, Berlin, Danzig, Warsaw, Moscow, Odessa, and Paris.

Background of Conflict

Mr. Eddy then proceeded to trace the background of the present conflict. The first step, that of Japanese aggression in Manchuria in 1931, was an especially important one in that it started the totalitarian successes and provided a precedent in which no drastic League action was taken. Following this was the Italian seizure of Ethiopia and Hitler's denouncing the Locarno treaty with his remilitarization of the Rhineland and the rebuilding of the German navy.

The fourth step in the series of defeats of the democracies was Franco's revolution in Spain, successful because of Italian and German support. This victory enabled Germany to establish air bases on the French border and to fortify sites above Gibraltar.

Sixth step was Germany's disregard for the rights of the Jews in Germany and their annexation of Austria. The seizure of Sudeten German territory in Czechoslovakia and finally the annexation of Bohemia and Moravia completed the list of clear wins on the side of the totalitarian states. Mr. Eddy pointed out that the desire for peace was so strong, that at each new step the democracies were misled into believing it would be the last. It was only after the Italian move into Albania, the conquest of Danzig and Memel and the then threatened seizure of Poland that England was forced out of her appeasement policy to guarantee the territorial integrity of the latter.

As to Mr. Eddy's opinion of Russian plans for the future—he feels that Stalin will supply Germany with materials to carry on war for a year or so, thus giving the Germans plenty of rope by which to hang themselves. The lecturer said he felt that Russia would stay out of the conflict as much as possible and, if they were able to do this, the United States and the U. S. S. R. would emerge self-sufficient and impregnable.

He closed with a discussion of the individual's relation to the international problem. The realist and idealist and the absolutist and relativist were the different approaches he mentioned. He seemed to feel that the realist and the relativist had the sounder philosophy in that they went from the actual situation to the ideal, modifying their ideas to fit the exact situation.

Students Receive Awards In Music

Presser Foundation Gives Scholarships to Three For Continuing Studies

Yesterday, Professor Lewis J. Hathaway of the Music department announced that the Presser Foundation scholarship would be divided among James C. Smith II, '40, Philip C. Wright, '40, and Mildred E. Becker '41.

The scholarships will enable the recipients to continue study in their particular fields of muisc for one semester in the Music department. Smith will study the organ, and Miss Becker the violin. Although Wright is considered a promising cellist, he has received the award on the basis of his singing talent, and will continue to study voice under the Music department.

According to the Presser foundation "only students of good character and satisfactory standing who without the financial help provided by the Foundation could not carry on their studies, may be made beneficiaries of these scholarships. Preference shall be given to those who expect to become teachers."

The Presser foundation also requires of the recipients that at least one-third and not more than two-thirds of their studies lie in the field of music.

This year will be the first that the Presser Foundation has awarded scholarships to Middlebury students. Although the Foundation determines in what institutions these scholarships shall be administered, it is left entirely to the discretion of the head of the Music Department as to which students shall be beneficiaries.

OUTING TO MOUNT MANSFIELD WITH U.V.M. PLANNED

Plans for a hike to Mount Mansfield next Sunday and the schedule of lectures for freshman Skyline tryouts were announced by Robert C. Anderson '40, president of Mountain club.

The Mansfield hike is to be a joint outing with the University of Vermont Mountain club. Seventy Middlebury students, men and women, will be permitted to attend, while only twenty from U. V. M. will be qualified to go. Anderson and James A. Cornwall '40 will be in charge of the hike.

The local group will leave Battell cottage at 8:30 next Sunday, going by truck seventy miles to the base of the mountain, the highest in the state of Vermont. Led by Raymond R. Unsworth '41, the seventy Middlebury hikers will go up by way of Smuggler's Notch to the Half-Way house and continue on to the "nose" of the mountain. After a lunch on the mountain they will descend by way of another trail, and get home around supper time. Last year a similar hike to Mount Mansfield was planned, but was called off at the last minute due to adverse weather conditions.

The Middlebury team will meet one of its stiffest rivals in Dartmouth, which is rated as one of the finest debating groups in the country. It is interesting to note that as far as decisions in the past are concerned both colleges are equal—both Midd and Dartmouth winning one debate each, and the third a draw.

Tobacco...opens Doors to Fields where People Live, Work & Achieve

Today there are about 1,000,000 cigar stores, drug stores, country and grocery stores where you can buy cigarettes in the United States. These retailers, and the jobbers who serve them, have built up a service of courtesy and convenience unmatched by any other industry catering to the American public's pleasure.

THERE ARE ANOTHER MILLION people who are engaged directly or indirectly in the transportation of cigarettes to every town, hamlet and crossroads.

IT IS ESTIMATED that there are 1,602,000 tobacco farmers raising tobacco in 20 out of the 48 states. Good tobacco is one of the hardest crops to raise and bring to market, requiring great skill and patience from seed-bed planting to harvesting and curing. The modern tobacco farmer has done well the job of constantly improving the quality of his product.

THE AVERAGE LENGTH of service of the 13,230 people working in the Chesterfield factories, storage houses, leaf-handling and redrying plants is over 10 years. This means that every step in the making of Chesterfields, regardless of how small, is handled by people who have had 10 years of experience and ability in knowing their jobs.

TRULY TOBACCO OPENS DOORS to fields where people live, work and achieve, and Chesterfield takes pride in its ever increasing part in this great industry that is devoted entirely to the pleasure of the American public.

TO SMOKERS, Chesterfield Cigarettes have always said, and now repeat, that in no other cigarette made can you find the same degree of real mildness and good taste, or the same high quality of properly cured and aged tobaccos. Chesterfield Cigarettes are made with one purpose only...to give smokers everywhere the MILDER, BETTER-TASTING SMOKING PLEASURE they want. You can't buy a better cigarette.
